Dear Fenichka

You are undoubtedly waiting for me to write before you'll answer, and never want to take into account that I don't have any free time. I just managed to celebrate my sister's wedding. I haven't even had a chance to recover. When I rest a bit I'll write a detailed letter, in which I'll explain why I wrote to my boss and the misunderstanding that resulted, why I forgot to write to you. And you answered me... You need to know and write more often. Be healthy.

Your Lev [on the right side]
