

Chana Ronen to Fenya
Kiev, March 12 (1915 or later)

Dear Children, Fenya, Lyova and Izya,

Dear daughter,

How is it you've forgotten your parents so soon? You are a mother yourself and now you know how difficult it is to bring up children. I have had no letters from you for so many days. Try to understand my position, the position of a sick mother. Don't delay with your answer to my letter. I want to know about your health. That would be the best remedy for me. I've been sick for almost a year and you do not send me letters. I mailed you several letters during the year. I wonder if you received even one. And you are not interested to know how we are. It is such a disgraceful attitude you, as a daughter have towards your parents.

I want to remind you of the words you wrote to Rosenfeld, that she had behaved very strangely and had forgotten her mother. And it appeared to be you who forgot the mother!

What is my sin that you do not want to write? Three months ago I sent a letter to a man to bring you, but no answer again.

Lyova, please, have Fenya write me a letter, I will be very thankful to you

What kind of hearts you have! That you are not willing to write.

Dear daughter, my eyes do not dry up because of you. I am thinking about you all the time. I am waiting for your letter with impatience.
