Kiev, November 12, 1912

Hello, dear Levochka!

I was happy to receive your letter, I didn't know what to do, why do you think I was so glad, because I do not get letters often, and when I get any response from you after three months, it makes me happy, Levochka. I am glad that you have a good position, apparently. Levochka, I don't know why you didn't like to write to me when you had a bad one, and when things get better for you, you write to me. It means that you like to share only good things with me and not bad. However, it is a good trait that you have. Anyway, Levochka, I don't know where to start. I have so many things to share that I don't know where to start. In general, I am already tired of my correspondence, only G-d knows, but I think that our correspondence will end soon. Levochka, a few weeks ago, I sent you two letters, of course very unpleasant for you but believe me Leva, I didn't write those letters with ink but with my tears. Do you know why I wrote them this way? It is so painful, I write and write on those days when I don't get a response from you. I am ashamed in front of my relatives, they blame me that I always write but don't get responses, see that it is painful for me. Levochka, you wrote that you sent a letter to your sister because she has to pay fines for you. I am wondering if the sister, you are as important to me as a brother to me, it does not matter, the sister is more important than some... Fenya... Anyway, Levochka, I terribly want to go after Christmas. A lot of acquaintances are going and I would like to join them. Levochka, not much is needed in order to send the loan to you, it seems to me. Though I don't know, maybe in your opinion, a lot is needed. Leva, one of my very good acquaintances arrived to America the other day. I gave her your address, she will visit you, she came to her friend. Levochka, you will see how nice she is. I got a letter from her just yesterday. I gave her your address while she was in Kiev but it looks like she lost it but I am also writing a letter to her today and I am writing your address to her. She is a very likable person. Levochka, she will probably ask you...
